RE: Coastal Zone Consistency for Corps Reference No. 202000899,
Pickering Passage Aquaculture Sites (McArthur, Ellis, Justis, Colello), Mason County, Washington

Dear Matt Smith:

On December 10, 2020, the Department of Ecology received a Certification of Consistency with the Washington State Coastal Zone Management Program (CZMP) for the above project.

This determination is to continue growing geoduck at the following sites: McArthur = 0.46 acres; Ellis = 0.23 acres; Justis = 0.17 acres; and Colello = 0.16 acres. The sites contain no eelgrass or kelp. Access to sites can occur by boat or from the upland, however, during the planting period, all equipment will be transported to the site by water from a staging area.

Geoduck seed will be planted on the inside of 4" diameter PVC tubes or in flexible plastic mesh sleeves, which will then be placed in the substrate. These will all be placed on private tidelands ranging from above +2' MLLW to the extreme low tide. Tubes will be covered with mesh caps and approximately 3" – 4" will be exposed above substrate. Planting will take place from spring to early fall.

Caps will be removed 12 to 24 months after planting, and 24 months after planting, all tubes and mesh sleeves will be removed from the beach. Five to six years after planting, harvesting will begin using a low pressure wand – typically in late fall or early winter. Six months later (six years after planting), the harvest will be completed and the beach will be prepared for re-planting.

The project site is located on tidelands within Pickering Passage, on parcel numbers 220215000025, 220215000024, 220215000915, and 220215000036, adjacent to 61 E Scott Dr., near Shelton, Mason County, Washington; Section 21, Township 20 North, Range 2 West; WRIA 14 - Kennedy/Goldsborough Watershed.

Pursuant to Section 307(c)(3) of the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972 as amended, Ecology concurs with Trident Marine Services, Inc. determination that the proposed work is consistent with Washington's CZMP.
