The site it adjacent to critical habitat, but at this time there is no indication that contamination is impacting sediment in Puget Sound.

Site history Go to top

The site consists of an Upper Yard and a Lower Yard. The Lower Yard was formerly part of the Edmonds Marsh. A portion of the Edmonds Marsh was filled with dirt to create the Lower Yard. Fuel terminal operations occurred at the site from 1923 to 1991. Large ASTs were located on the Upper Yard. Product piping and loading racks were located on the Lower Yard. Additionally and asphalt plant operated on the Lower Yard from 1953 to the late 1970s. The first Agreed Order was entered into in 1993. The Upper Yard was cleaned up in 2003 and has been redeveloped with condos. Most of the soil contamination has been excavated from the lower yard. Work is being conducted on a Consent Decree to direct the final cleanup.
