

Soil Safety Program Service Area

The original Soil Safety Program service area (darker blue) was around 315 sq miles and extended north to West Seattle and south to Thurston County. Ecology set the boundary based on limited data to estimate where maximum arsenic levels were likely to be over 100 parts per million (ppm).