Re: John's Shell located at 1410 Ocean Beach Highway, Longview, WA

Dear Mr. Wilcox:

I have reviewed the records received by Ecology on John's Shell, located at 1410 Ocean Beach Highway, Longview, Washington. The records include a report submitted by Charles Spear for Environmental Inspection Services, dated November 6, 1991, and letters submitted by you dated August 20, 1991, and February 10, 1992.

It appears that the Cleanup Guidelines for Leaking Underground Storage Tanks have been met at this site based upon my review of this report. At this time, the Department of Ecology (Ecology) foresees no further Ecology action being taken on this site.

Ecology retains the right to require additional cleanup if it receives any information in the future that the site is contaminated. The cleanup guidelines at that time will be based on by Chapter 70.105D RCW, or any other pertinent law.

All records pertaining to a site are housed in Central Files at the Southwest Regional Office of the Department of Ecology. Records, except for those records specifically identified as confidential, are made available for public review by appointment. Appointments may be scheduled by calling Cathy Downs at (206) 664-0388.

If you have any questions, please call me at (206) 586-5562, or you can write to me at the above address.

Sincerely,

Patricia L. Martin
