Re: Everett Mill E Site
Everett, Washington

Dear Mr. Cargill:

I am writing in response to your September 11, 1989 correspondence indicating that the Department of Ecology is proposing to find Beazer Materials and Services Inc. (BM&S) a potentially liable party regarding the above referenced site. In a September 25, 1989 telephone conversation with John Williams, formerly of your office, BM&S was granted an extension of time in which to respond to the Agency's letter. During this conversation, BM&S requested materials from the Department of Ecology to provide clarification as to the location of the site and documents linking BM&S to this site. It was agreed that within two weeks of receiving the materials from the Department, BM&S would respond to the Department's request.

During the past month, Suzanne Burtt of our office has made several telephone calls to the Department of Ecology requesting the above-mentioned materials and indicating BM&S' willingness to respond to the Agency's letter when the material was received. In a telephone conversation on October 19, 1989, you indicated that you would be sending the information and confirmed the extension of time in which to respond to the Agency's letter.

Based upon an internal investigation conducted by BM&S, our records do not indicate that BM&S operated at the Mill E Site, Everett, Washington. Therefore, BM&S should not be found to be a potentially liable party at this site. When information is supplied by the Agency, BM&S will conduct further investigation, if necessary.

Very truly yours,

Babette Magee
