RE: You have not completed the reapplication process for your Construction Stormwater General Permit

Dear Ron Wren:

Your current Construction Stormwater General Permit coverage (CSWGP), issued by the Washington State Department of Ecology (Ecology), expires December 31, 2020. You were required to submit your reapplication by July 4, 2020. You were sent two reminders (March and May 2020) to reapply for continued CSWGP coverage beginning January 1, 2021. Ecology records show that you have not reapplied or finished your reapplication for permit coverage. Please submit or complete your reapplication immediately.

If you do not reapply or receive an approved Notice of Termination (NOT) by December 31, 2020, any discharge of construction stormwater following this date will not be covered under the permit. This would be a violation of the Federal Clean Water Act and Chapter 90.48 Revised Code of Washington (RCW)-the State of Washington Water Pollution Control Act. Failure to maintain permit coverage after January 1, 2021, may result in a penalty of up $10,000 per day for each violation of discharging construction stormwater without a permit.

To Reapply Online

Ecology uses SecureAccess Washington (SAW) to maintain security of your data. Please see the enclosed reapplication instructions. You can use your existing SAW account to reapply. If you do not have a SAW account, you can create one by going to <https://secureaccess.wa.gov/>. For instructions on setting up a SAW account, visit <https://ecology.wa.gov/wqwebportalhelp>.

Permit Reissuance

Ecology reissued the CSWGP on November 18, 2020. The reissued permit will become effective on January 1, 2021. You may download copies of the final permit, Fact Sheet, Response to Comments, and other supporting documents online at www.ecology.wa.gov/constructionstormwaterpermit. You may also request copies from Dena Jaskar at (360) 407-6401 or by email at dena.jaskar@ecy.wa.gov.
