Invoice # 27308

Rainbow Valley Landfill, Inc has applied for a State Waste Discharge Permit in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 90.48 Revised Code of Washington (RCW) and Chapter 173-216 Washington Administrative Code (WAC).

Following evaluation of the application and other available information, a draft permit has been developed which would allow the discharge of treated industrial wastewater from Rainbow Valley Landfill to Willapa Regional Wastewater Treatment Plant.

A tentative determination has been made on the effluent limitations and special permit conditions that will prevent and control pollution. A final determination will not be made until all timely comments received in response to this notice have been evaluated.

PUBLIC COMMENT AND INFORMATION

The draft permit and fact sheet may be viewed at the Department of Ecology (Ecology) website: <https://apps.ecology.wa.gov/paris/DocumentSearch.aspx>. The application, fact sheet, proposed permit, and other related documents are also available at Ecology's Southwest Regional Office for inspection and copying between the hours of 8:00 am and 4:30 pm, weekdays. come work at Willapa Harbor Hospital. He agreed and moved with his wife to Pacific County.

From 1983-2002, Dr. Hing had a private practice, Harbor Family Practice, where he saw patients and Patricia was his office manager. He also worked at Willapa Harbor Hospital performing minor surgeries, colonoscopies, endoscopies and assisted on other surgeries. He also worked in the emergency department and as a hospitalist. He became a member of the Washington State Medical Association and a fellow at the American Association of Family Practice. In 2002, he moved his clinic to Willapa Harbor Hospital and continued performing procedures. In 2018, he became the Cardiac Rehabilitation Medical Director.

Dr. Frank Hing and Patricia have two children, a son, Adrian, and a daughter, Simone, who both attended South Bend Elementary and South Bend HS. They both live in Seattle after finishing college. Simone, from Seattle University, and Adrian, from Western Washington University.

Dr. Hing enjoys traveling, golf, photography, and he's a handyman and enjoys woodworking. After 38 years of hard work and service to the local community, he decided to retire from his family medicine clinic practice. But he has agreed to stay on at Willapa Harbor Hospital as the Medical Director of the Cardiac Rehabilitation Program and continue to perform procedures while filling shifts at his discretion on a per diem basis. This is a testament of his dedication toward the hospital and to keeping the community healthy.

His staff will surely miss seeing his smiling face on a regular basis in his clinic, but wholeheartedly wish him all the very best. Dr. Hing plans on traveling and playing golf during his retirement, maybe even doing some volunteering.

Letters To The Editor

Good Bye to Dr. Hing

To the Editor:

This week will be Dr. Frank Hing's last as a family doctor in our community and my sister and I would like to thank him for caring for our family during the last 30 years. Dr. Hing had just arrived when our parents moved here. He was their doctor for almost the entire time they lived here and became our doctor as well when we moved here a few years ago.

Our mother would have died many times without Dr. Hing. She had a dangerous heart condition that eventually required a pacemaker. Dr. Hing put in a temporary pacemaker before sending her to a specialist and hospital in Portland, Oregon. We will never forget arriving at the hospital and meeting with her new cardiologist. He asked who had put the pacemaker in, thinking there was a cardiologist in Raymond. We told him her family doctor, Dr. Hing, had done it before sending her his way. He was stunned. He said the placement was so perfect they were able to use the wires and had simply had to exchange the temporary pacemaker for a permanent one. He told us we were very lucky. That most doctors who were not cardiologists would not have been able to do what Dr. Hing had. She lived for almost 20 more years with this pacemaker.

A few years after moving here, I had a major medical problem that would encompass almost 3 years of hospital and doctor visits. I would not have survived without Dr. Hing. When specialists failed me, he was there. He has cared for my mother, father, sister and me and we will miss him as he retires from private practice. Having lived in a city with many doctors, we hope the community here realize how lucky you were to have him as a doctor here for so many years. Thank you Dr. Hing!

Sincerely,
Mary Mast,
Raymond

Raymond, Lewis County Get Money Commerce awards $11.4 million for vital infrastructure projects in 20 rural communities

Community Development Block Grants fund a wide range of high-priority local projects, including public water, sewer, emergency and fire protection systems, streets, housing, food pantries and more.

The Washington State Department of Commerce last Thursday announced 20 rural cities, towns and counties will receive a total of more than $11.4 million in Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) for 2021. Raymond and Lewis County received awards. The 22 projects funded will:

- Improve rural water, sewer, streets, community facilities and fire protection systems,
- Support affordable housing and economic development, and
- Complete community planning for asset management, recreation and growth.

Grants include funding for critical fire and emergency facility projects in Malden, Republic and Colville, all communities struggling with the impact and growing frequency and severity of wildfires.

In addition to core water, sewer and street infrastructure, other grants will also fund local assistance programs such as a food bank and food pantry expansion in Kittitas County and regional housing rehabilitation in Klickitat and Skamania counties.

"This funding is necessary for small local governments, whose resources are stretched thin by the pandemic, to build and maintain public infrastructure that strengthens their communities," said Commerce Director Lisa Brown.

These 22 projects will leverage an additional $15.9 million in other state, federal, local and private resources to strengthen rural Washington. Commerce received 37 applications for 2021 funds, requesting a total of $19.4 million.

2021 Washington State Community Development Block Grant Awards:

Lewis County, $900,000 for new water reservoir with Water District No. 1 (Randle)

Raymond, $25,000 for comprehensive plan update
Brewster, $900,000 for wastewater improvements
Cle Elum, $800,000 for Stafford Avenue Corridor improvements

College Place, $341,184 for SafeWalk College Place sidewalk construction
Colville, $900,000 for fire and emergency facility upgrades with Stevens County Fire District No. 3

Elmer City, $30,000 for Force Main assessment and feasibility study

Harrington, $366,750 for wastewater plant modifications

Kittitas County, $900,000 for food bank and food pantry expansion with Friends in Service to Humanity

Lamont, $668,900 for telemetry and water system improvements

Malden, $900,000 for a fire station and $30,000 for outdoor recreation planning

Odesa, $30,000 for Well 3 assessment

Oroville, $30,000 for public utilities GIS mapping

Pateros, $30,000 for planning and construction standards

Republic, $850,000 for EMS station construction with Ferry County EMS District No. 1

Rosalia, $600,051 for water system emergency power improvements

San Juan County, $900,000 for waste water treatment plant upgrades with Eastsound Sewer District

Springdale, $900,000 for new reservoir and water system improvements

Springdale, $30,000 for asset management plan

Washburn, $895,000 for well improvements

White Salmon, $400,000 for regional housing rehabilitation program with Columbia Cascade Housing Corporation (Klickitat and Skamania)

Fire Department building using ARRA COVID monies. The council accepted bids on the work.

Raymond City Mayor Tony Nordin announced that Pacific County has given the city a grant of $38,750 "that will go towards the Willapa Landing Boat Launch repair." Pacific County has the ability to award cities grants when they apply with projects. Raymond applied with the Willapa Landing Boat Launch Dredging Project and was given money to go ahead with the project.
