

Proposed Removal from the Hazardous Sites List

The Department of Ecology proposes taking the Clarion Hotel site off the Hazardous Sites List. You may comment on this decision from July 2 - 31, 2014. The box to the right shows where to find:

- A No Further Action letter that describes and approves the cleanup.
- Background documents describing site investigations, the nature and extent of contamination, and cleanup.

Site Background and Cleanup

The Clarion Hotel site is located at 900 Capitol Way South in Olympia. In 2008, the owner began investigating it based on concerns about neighboring sites with petroleum contamination in soil and groundwater. Sampling found some soil and groundwater at this site contaminated with petroleum. The owner then found and removed an old heating oil underground storage tank and surrounding contaminated soil.

From 2013 - early 2014, the property owners sampled groundwater to make sure no contamination remained. They found no petroleum contamination above state cleanup levels. Ecology considers the cleanup complete. The site was cleaned up under the Voluntary Cleanup Program.

What Happens Next

1. Through July 31, Ecology invites you to comment on our decision to remove the site from the Hazardous Sites List.
2. After the comment period, we will respond to comments.
3. Ecology may require further sampling or cleanup based on information given by the public. Otherwise, Ecology will remove the site from the Hazardous Sites List.

What is the Hazardous Sites List?

The Hazardous Sites List includes sites that Ecology has assessed for their potential risk to human health and the environment. Sites must go through cleanup and meet state standards before Ecology can remove them from the list.
