

Why we are acting on the climate crisis

Reducing our reliance on fossil fuels will limit the impacts of climate change and protect human health.

It also produces air pollution, which causes serious human illnesses.

Burning fossil fuels for energy affects the climate and the air we breathe.

It creates climate pollution that heats the planet's atmosphere.